4	Female Quora Merged I think a person is successful not because of the fame, name and money but if you are satisfied and enjoying whatever you are doing even if you don't earn much but are capable of making yourself happy and each day feels like a party.	8/18/2017
5	Male Quora Merged Success changes as your life progress. It all depends on your age. When I am 8, success to me is being able to finish my home work and go out to play with my friends. When I am 18, success to me is having a girl friend, a car and study in university. When I am 28, success to me is to have a high salary job. When I am 38, success to me is being able to see my love ones and seeing my children growing up. I am 40 this year. My definition of success is still the same as when I am 38. I would add one more to my definition of success. It is to have good health, and remain fit. The definition of success varies from person to person. A homeless person would see someone who has a simple home as successful. The person who has a simple home would see another person who has a larger home to be successful. The idea of success sometimes brings un-happiness and discontent. Maybe true success is being able to enjoy and appreciate what we all have now. To read more of my other writing. 6	Quora Merged Most people want their life to be this way. To them, this is the "ideal" definition of having a successful life. All the wants of education, money, job and business surrounds around this line - Work to live, retire and then die. Being successful is "Breaking the obvious", "The Norm", breaking what is considered "Normal" and living life in your own terms. This looks like this Of course it is much more complicated than this and it would take many, many pivots to achieve that state wherein someone wants to live on his own terms. But this is just an example to show how you bring your own definition of success into the picture Only you know what that definition is but one thing is for certain - whatever is already out there and perceived as "Normal" is not YOUR definition. You have a different definition which you need to figure out using exploring. So in a sentence, being successful means "Exploring and finding that definition of success according to your own terms"	10/19/2016
7	Ages 60 or older Male Quora Merged In its simplest personal sense success, or being successful, means accomplishing what you set out to do. The simplicity fades rapidly during the attempts because people underestimate the effort, or misunderstand the process, or don't fully consider the implications or outcomes. The most complex sense of success is the social perspective - what do others expect of you. Your parents, teachers, siblings, friends, mentors, employers, associates, and others all create a sense of expectation. These are rarely fully expressed. When asked, the answer is most often something like "do your best" or "follow instructions." Most people we identify as successful are those who continually advance in a direction we desire. They may express a confidence we admire, or a respect from those we consider successful. In my opinion the truly successful are those who read the expectations of others and integrate the relevant ones in a balance with their own goals. They approach each day with an open mind, alert for ideas and opportunities, and plan tasks that move them forward. They support those they love. They carry only what they need. They learn from their mistakes, and study for their challenges. In the eternal scheme of goals and opportunities each of our lives last only a nano-second. When the flash is over, if we can say we were true to our deepest beliefs, faithful in their pursuit, then we have the right to feel successful.	7/9/2016

- 8 Ages 40-49 Male Quora Merged Very good question, taking this question quite seriously will cause significant transformations for the self. It is very important to distinguish the definition as it suits the self Vs. the one the rest of the people around you prefer. One may even attempt to go for both the types of definition and balance the priorities between the two, harmonizing the two parallel objectives. It will be easier, to list down the various definitions you will find (search the net, if necessary), and start wondering what kind of being and becoming will help you to go after such definitions. Also, note any potential conflicts between any such definitions, and attempt to work out a give-and-take negotiation between the two, towards harmonizing your life for achieving all these objectives. Some simple ones that got my attention: Natural smile on your face all the time, even at the time of stress and disaster Being happy unconditionally Filled with love and compassion unconditionally Having no regret, fear, remorse or hesitation regarding the past, present and future, being fully free and live Achieving all objectives as stated in the Maslov's pyramid, including the top most one in the pyramid which is an addendum viz. self-transcendence, which comes beyond the self-actualization (Maslow's hierarchy of needs - Wikipedia) Living fully, with all seven chakras of our being at their best performance (<https://holisticapproachto.com/2...>) - Focus on the left side positive effects and watch out to eliminate the right side negativities! Another diagram that helps to use this concept effectively with no confusions: Pinterest . Yet another simple summary that will help to evaluate and focus on refinements: Chakras Being ready for the death for any moment, and having an ability to do so with a sense of fulfillment and joy Hope these cues help. Develop your own set of definitions and work towards implementing them. Do not expect to arrive at the optimal definitions in one go, but as your life progresses, both the definition and alignment to the same mature! Best wishes!

- 10 Ages 21-29 Quora Merged I used to read answers of our famous writer, Mr. K. A. I always felt jealous of how this man gets so many upvotes for an answer which had nothing special information in it. The knowledge before and after reading his answers always remained same. I'd written some good stuff of answers to add knowledge to those who read it which I found missing in his content. I even find good knowledge content from some authors I follow. So basically I didn't even follow KA. Then today morning I read one answer: Pratik Sharma's answer to What is something that needs to be said? This answer was written some 4 hours ago then. The answer made me visit KA's profile. There were same type of answers. Then I shut down that tab. Now, 5 minutes ago when I opened my Quora, I found this question in my feed: How will Quora be impacted as a result of Kanwal Anuvind being banned? I was shocked to see it and like my usual habit, I visited KA's profile again. I was surprised to see that it was banned on Quora! Just in about 6–8 hours of Pratik Sharma's answer, KA was clean bowled! Now this I call success! Great job Pratik Sharma But what I see further is to end someone, he had to give up his life. It is sad to see Pratik Sharma banned on Quora.

- 11 Ages 40-49 Male Quora Merged It might be useful to review the guidelines for success according to Judaism, Christianity, and Islam Guidelines for success and failure according to Judaism: In order to succeed, we have to obey God and to keep his commands Deuteronomy 13:3-4 God is testing you to find out whether you love him with all your heart and with all your soul. - It is God you must follow, and him you must revere. Keep his commands and obey him; serve him and hold fast to him God has promised blessings for obedience and curses for disobedience Deuteronomy 11:26-28 See, I am setting before you today a blessing and a curse, the blessing if you obey the commands of God that I am giving you today; the curse if you disobey the commands of God and turn from the way that I command you today Deuteronomy 32:46-47 "he said to them, "Take to heart all the words I have solemnly declared to you this day, so that you may command your children to obey carefully all the words of this law. They are not just idle words for you—they are your life. Deuteronomy 28:2-6 confirms and reiterates the same message All these blessings will come on you and accompany you if you obey God: You will be blessed in the city and blessed in the country. The fruit of your womb will be blessed, and the crops of your land and the young of your livestock—the calves of your herds and the lambs of your flocks. blessed when you go out. The most frequent teachings of the Old Testament are 'blessings for obedience & Curses for dis-obedience Deuteronomy 30:15-16 See, I set before you today life and prosperity, death and destruction. For I command you today to love God, to walk in obedience to him, and to keep his commands, decrees and laws; then you will live and increase, and God will bless you in the land you are entering to possess. Deuteronomy 30:19 This day I call the heavens and the earth as witnesses against you that I have set before you life and death, blessings and curses. Now choose life, so that you and your children may live Deuteronomy 10:12-13 what does God ask of you but to fear God, to walk in all his ways, to love him, to serve God with all your heart and with all your soul, 13and to observe the LORD's commands and decrees that I am giving you today for your own good? The same consistent teachings are also confirmed in Deuteronomy 7:12-16, Deuteronomy 11:13-15, Deuteronomy 15:5-6, Leviticus 19:34 The alien living with you must be treated as one of your native-born. Love him as yourself, for you were aliens in Egypt The same message of loving the foreigners was confirmed in Deuteronomy 10:19, and Leviticus 19:34 Deuteronomy 10:19 And you are to love those who are foreigners, for you yourselves were foreigners in Egypt Leviticus 19:34 The foreigner residing among you must be treated as your native-born. Love them as yourself In Deuteronomy 10:13-29, Moses has summarized what God wants from us. These verses teach us that God is just and merciful; he likes us to be just and merciful to orphans, strangers, and widows, to worship him as the only God and to obey his law Deuteronomy 10:17-19 teach that God is great, mighty, awesome, does not show partiality; reminds us of the justice for the orphan and the widow Deuteronomy 27:19 Cursed is anyone who withholds justice from the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow Deuteronomy 24:17 Do not deprive the foreigner or the fatherless of justice, or take the cloak of the widow as a pledge Exodus 23:2 is a warning to those who follow the majority Do not follow the crowd in doing wrong. When you give testimony in a lawsuit, do not pervert justice by siding with the crowd The core teachings of Moses are also confirmed by the Prophets; they have also taught that God revealed the laws that are just and right, but most people became arrogant and did not obey God's commands Our life consists of a number of days, with each day passes, we lose a part of our life – this should urge us to think, what is the most important thing to do – to Get wisdom Similar teachings are taught by David in Psalm 90:12 Proverbs 17:15 states: He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the righteous, both of them alike are an abomination unto God That should be considered as a warning to the teachers who promise free salvation to the sinners and who claim that Jesus has been punished to save them In Psalms 1:1-2 David taught that there are wicked people who choose the way of sinners and there are righteous people who choose to obey; he did not teach that people are born sinners Isaiah 30:15 teaches in repentance and obedience is your salvation Isaiah 48:18 If only you had paid attention to my commands, your peace would have been like a river, your well-being like the waves of the sea Isaiah 42:21 teaches that God could have consider them righteous if they had glorified the law Isaiah 58:6-11 teach that the true worships are not the prayers, the fasting and the rituals, but are to loosen the chains of injustice, to defend the oppressed, to feed the hungry and to help others Such verses are sample prescriptions for those who seek righteousness and those who want God to answer their prayers It is not impossible for people to follow such wisdom and to transform earth into a paradise "Is not this the kind of fasting I have chosen: to loosen the chains of injustice and untie the cords of the yoke, to set the oppressed free and break every yoke? Is it not to share your food with the hungry and to provide the poor wanderer with shelter - when you see the naked, to clothe them, and not to turn away from your own flesh and blood? Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will quickly appear; then your righteousness will go before you, and the glory of the Lord will be your rear guard. Then you will call, and the Lord will answer; you will cry for help, and he will say: Here am I Isaiah 3:5 People will oppress each other - man against man, neighbor against neighbor. The young will rise up against the old, the nobody against the honored. He explained the reason of those disasters in 3:8-9 because they did not obey God but they chose to rebel and have rewarded evil unto themselves Success and failure according to Christianity: Jesus taught that when we obey God and do good works; we will pass the test of this world and will become qualified to receive God's rewards in heaven In Matt 5:13-16, Jesus taught that the believers should act as the salt to protect against corruption and as a light to guide others to the truth The same is also written in mark 9:50 and Luke 14:34-35 In Matt 7:13-14, Jesus warned those who follow the majority Enter through the narrow gate; for the gate is wide and the way is broad that leads to destruction, and there are many who enter through it. For the gate is small and the way is narrow that leads to life, and there are few who find it Most people ignore that teachings and say 'As long as I am with the majority, I should be fine', but they are wrong according to the teachings of Jesus in Luke 13:24-27, Matthew 7:13-14 In Matt 7:15-20, Jesus warned from the false teachers who mislead people; he advised us to identify them from their bad deeds In Matthew 7:21-23 Jesus warned of the false teachers who claim to perform miracles; he advised that only the believers who obey will enter the kingdom of heaven The same is also written in Luke 13:25-27 In Matthew 22:35-40, Jesus confirmed the teachings of the Old Testament like Deuteronomy 6:5 and Leviticus 18:4-5 Mark 12:33 teaches: And to love one's neighbour as himself, is much more than all burnt offerings and sacrifices What Jesus taught here is not different from the wisdom taught by the old testimony Hosea 6:6 For I desire mercy and not sacrifice, And the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings Luke 12:16-21 is a parable to warn most people who treasure for tomorrow while turning a blind eye to the hungry people we see everyday John 12:25 warns those who like to "live it up" urging them to prepare for the eternal life The same is also confirmed in Matthew 10:39 and Matthew 16:25 The same is also mentioned in Luke 9:23-25, Mark 8:34-35 Matthew 13:44 teaches us to give everything to obey so that we get God's rewards for the righteous James 4:1-5 also warns those who compete to enjoy the pleasures of this life Luke 6:27-36 and Matthew 5:38-42 set the high standard for wise dealing with others; such teachings would replace hatred by compassion and would transform earth into a paradise Matthew 7:12 reminds us of the "Golden Rule", the common ground wisdom taught by all wise teachers Matthew 6:24 urges us to shift from the material life into a spiritual life Matthew 12:50 teaches that the real family of the prophet are the obedient believers For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother Luke 6:46-48 teaches that solid faith foundations are based on obedience to the teachings The same is also taught in John 14:15 and John 14:21 If you love me, you will keep my commandments John 14:21 They who have my commandments and keep them are those who love me; and those who love me will be loved by my Father, and I will love them and reveal myself to them In Matthew 25:31-45 Jesus described the final judgment as being based on good works; he clarified that those who obey the law will be saved Salvation is not based solely on belief and nothing else; salvation is not granted to those who merely profess acceptance of Jesus without actually performing kind or compassionate deeds Jesus did not teach that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law; In Matthew 16:27 and John 5:29, Jesus has confirmed that God will reward each person according to his deeds; those are the basic teachings of the old testimony like the verses taught in Psalm 62:12, Ecclesiastes 12:14, and many other old testimony verses Matthew 25:41-46 teach that when we give the poor, we give to God James 2:14 and 2:17 teach that faith without works is dead Success and failure according to the teachings of Islam: Quran Verse 2:136 of Quran urges us to follow what God has revealed to the Prophets Verse 42:13 teaches that there is one religion revealed by God to all Prophets 7:96 confirms the 'blessings for obedience and the curses for disobedience' – the same teachings of Moses and other prophets 14:7 teaches that God rewards the grateful and punishes the ungrateful 45:30-31 the believers who obey and do good deeds will be blessed 7:35 comforts those who accepted and obeyed the prophets; no fears; no grieves. The verse is to all people, not to Muslims only 7:42 teaches that those who believe and do righteous deeds will be rewarded an eternal life in paradise. The verse is also to all people, not to Muslims only 103:1-3 teach that mankind is in loss Except for those who have believed and done righteous deeds and advised each other to truth and advised each other to patience 30:41 teaches that Evil and the curses are the results of disobedience 7:164 urges us to guide the lost person to the truth and to bring him back to God 3:92 teaches that the evidence to the true belief is to spend money to support the poor 71:10 urges us to repent and pray to request God's forgiveness Many verses like 11:51, 34:47, 6:90, 12:104, 34:39, and 36:21 teach that true Prophets do not accept any reward for preaching the truth The same is also taught by many Prophets in 26:145, 26:164, and 26:180 11:117 teaches that God does not punish the obedient righteous 41:30-31 teaches that the believers who obey God will be supported by angels in this life and in the hereafter 40:51 teaches that God supports the prophets and the believers in this life and hereafter The same is confirmed in other verses like 37:171-172 10:62-64 teach that the righteous have nothing to fear, and neither shall they grieve 41:46 teaches that people have the choice to do either good deeds or bad deeds. God does not predetermine the punishment or the rewards before the people are born and before they have a chance to do any good or bad deeds 38:28 clarifies that God does not treat the obedient believers as the wicked 16:90 reminds us about justice, spending to support the poor, and warns of immorality and oppression 12:105 teaches that there are enough signs in the heavens and on earth to guide people to God 16:10-14 mention some signs like the rain, the fruits, the night, the day, the sun, the moon, the sea as a source of food and to enable transportation via ships, etc. (such signs should make people grateful) 30:21-23 remind us of some signs like our creation, marriage, creation of the heavens and the earth, different languages, colors, our sleep, and earning our living; all those are signs we should think about 30:44-45 teach that it is up to people to believe or to disbelieve; free will, no predestinations 6:116 teaches that the majority do not follow the truth but follow opinions and guesses 38:24 teaches that the majority is not right (and the true obedient believers are not the majority – but those are the minority) This is similar to the wisdom taught by Moses in Exodus 23:2 This is similar to the wisdom taught by Jesus when he mentioned the narrow gate in Luke 13:24-27 and in Matthew 7:13-14 33:67-68 is a scene from the hereafter to teach that those who follow the arrogant leaders will be misled 34:32 teaches that those who followed the arrogant leaders are also guilty 28:8 teaches that the soldiers who execute the commands of the wicked authorities are also sinners 15:42 teaches that the devil does not have authority to force people to sin 16:99 teaches that obedient believers can resist devil's temptations 17:65 teaches that the devil has no authority to mislead people (they can resist temptations) 27:83-85 is a scene from the hereafter, when we are asked 'what else have you been doing?' 28:65-66 is also a scene from the hereafter to warn those who reject the Prophets 6:120 teaches us to be transparent; we should not have any bad thoughts 25:43-44 warns those who follow their desires instead of following God's commands 16:105 teaches that the disbelievers are liars (because they conceal the proofs of existence of God which they see everywhere) 27:14 teaches that some people reject God's signs and revelations although they know that the signs and revelations are true 16:22 teaches that non-believers are arrogant (those are arrogant because they conclude that there is no God and there is no hereafter without enough knowledge – they acted like the child who has limited knowledge but makes conclusions about the advanced science theories) 23:64-66 is a scene from the hereafter to warn those who prefer to live a luxury life ignoring God's message 46:20 is a scene from the hereafter to warn the arrogant people who did not obey but chose to enjoy a luxury life That is similar to the wisdom taught by Jesus in Luke 16:25 4:150-152 Warns those who reject some of the prophets 7:30 teaches that God does not mislead people, but people are misled when they follow the devils temptations 7:146 teaches that God does not guide the arrogant who ignore the signs and deny God's message 6:119 teaches that many are led astray by their own lusts through ignorance 7:28 teaches that we should not automatically inherit the bad traditions of the disobedient parents 37:69-70 warn those who blindly follow the father's religion The same is confirmed in 43:23-25 16:35 warns those who say that it is all decided by God and we do not have decisions about faith matters 16:53 reminds us about God's gifts and the fact that he is the only refuge we seek in real disasters 16:83 warns those who enjoy the gifts of God but are ungrateful 17:14 is a scene from the hereafter teaches that each person will validate his records of his deeds 17:15 teaches that God enables people to choose their faith, they will be rewarded according to their deeds, and there is no punishment for those who do not know about the Prophets 17:72 warns those who turn a blind eye to the signs of God in this world that they will be blind in the hereafter 20:124-127 warn those who turn a blind eye to the signs of God in this world that they will be blind in the hereafter 43:7 teaches that people used to persecute the Prophets 23:44 teaches that people hate the true teachings of the prophets 21:35 teaches that we will be tested by bad and good things before we return to God 23:55-58 teach that gifts in this life are not rewards to the chosen, but are means to testing. 27:14 al warns those who reject the signs of God although they know that they are true signs and revelations 28:50 warns those who follow their desires without guidance from God 32:12 is a scene from the hereafter to warn those who fail to do good deeds 33:39 teaches that God will reward those who deliver his messages and fear none save God (the verse does not mention the reward; but say that those are very special people to God; God knows how to reward his very special people) 34:25-26 teach that everyone will be judged for his deeds only (not for the mistakes of fathers or others) 34:34 warns the people who have wealth and authority because those are usually the first people to reject the prophets 35:37 is a scene from the hereafter to explain the conditions of the disobedient who wish to go back to life to do good deeds (although they are granted enough time to demonstrate their behavior) 39:59-61 is a scene from the hereafter to warn the arrogant who deny the signs and revelations 40:81 warns those who ignore God's signs which he shows everywhere 42:40 teaches that it is better to forgive than to return evil for evil 42:43 urges us to be patient and to forgive 43:20 warns those who worship other Gods and claim that they do not have a choice to choose the right faith 43:36-37 warns those who ignore God Guidance that they will be misled by devils 43:72 Teaches that people are rewarded according to their deeds (God does not create people as holy or sinners. He does not determine their salvation, but he delegates that task to each person) 45:15 teaches that people determine their fate by their deeds 45:28-31 explains a scene from the hereafter; people will be rewarded for their deeds, all deeds are recorded 46:13 teaches that the obedient believers can earn their salvation 51:50 teaches that God is the only refuge to flee to. The verse does not mention the sources of the risks to flee from; the only safe haven from all disasters is God 63:10 urges us to spend money to support the poor 76:27 warns those who just enjoy life and forget to think about their salvation 80:34-37 warn about the Day of Judgment On the Day a man will flee from his brother, and his mother and his father, and his wife and his children, on that Day, to every one of them will his own state be of sufficient concern 24:22 urges forgiveness "...and you should forgive and overlook: Do you not like God to forgive you? And God is The Merciful Forgiving." 4:8-9 urge people to take care of the orphans and the needy

12	Ages 21-29 Female Quora Merged	The former president of India, Bharat Ratna Dr. A.P.J. Abdul kalam quoted: Success is when your signature turns into autograph. This line has always inspired me and has always motivated me to work harder, with more dedication towards my goals, for my dreams. But this isn't it. There is a lot more to it. The definition of success will vary from one person to another. Not only its definition but also the route to achieve it. The hurdles which you face while you achieve your success may not even exist for your friend. There may be various definitions of success but I think: Success isn't something to define, it is something to achieve & once you achieve it you'll have to achieve an upgraded, higher version of it. It's a never-ending journey. This road has no dead-end, no definite route, no definite path. It isn't something you simply define and by sticking on to it, you can not simply become successful, just like that. None can. Remember? Rome wasn't built in a day! • when a 5 year old sketches his mother & runs to her with a Star on his clumpy drawing, his mother hugs & tells him how proud she is, it is the success of that kid. • when a doctor receives blessings after treating a patient who now sees him next to god, it's the success of the doctor. • when a dreamer who left everything & walked away with only a penny in his pocket, makes his family proud, it's the success of his dreams. • when 2 lovers whose families never supported them for being together, prove them wrong by happily ending up together, it's the success of love. • when the whole country fights against injustice, despite the differences among its people, it's the success of the country. • when I go to bed with no regret from my day, holding no grudge against anyone, with a serene mind & a hopeful tomorrow, it's my success, for the day.	6/14/2017
13	Ages 30-39 Male Quora Merged	Common misconception, "Success is measured from peoples perspective". Dictionary defines success as " Achievement of an action within a specified period of time or within a specified parameter". When you are responsible for your action and you achieve the result, then how come others define it for you. Think. A daily wagger after standing hours under Sun able to get work for the day and secure dinner for his family . This is success for him. But does it mean success to you? You completed the project on time at your work and handed over to client. This is success for you. But does it mean the same to other team member ? I was able to secure a private job after my graduation which was much needed. This was huge success for me. But does that mean the same to a person who secured IAS/IPS ? People will call that person more successful than me. For me,the day you cherish on your accomplishment is real success. Doesn't matter how small it may seem to others, only you know under how much hardship you have gone through to achieve that.	5/3/2018
14	Ages 40-49 Male Quora Merged	I have defined success differently as I got older. It used to be about money and power. That always came with the ugly parts which are debt and stress. Today I find myself successful because I no longer strive for material things. I take life slowly, and enjoy it. I don't get stressed out when something goes badly, I pass it off and put it behind me. Fretting about the bad serves no purpose, except to create more negativity in my brain. I put things behind me quickly, and focus on the now and future. I give gifts of time instead of things, such as an outing or trip that involves me. I have zero debt. I'm not the richest person anymore like I was in my youth, but I think my life is highly successful. I wake each day thankful for it's coming, and never regret my past, I only learn not to repeat the negative parts. I greet people I have never met, and meet many new people because of it. I stopped judging people, and learned to empathize instead. I always give, sometimes too much, and never ask. And each night, when I go to bed, I thank God for my day, and pray he allow me another. This to me is success.	9/13/2016

- 15 Ages 21-29 Female Quora Merged "If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with success unexpected in common hours." ~Henry David Thoreau Success. A word defined by you and me. Do not be manipulated by the definitions applied to that word by others. Choose your own definition. Though I believe we all have the potential to succeed in reaching our dreams, I have found that success reaches to a far greater depth in our lives. Whenever I hug my sister and tell her that I love her, and she responds in the same manner—there is my success. Whenever I receive a random text or email from one of my long lost friends saying that they love me—there is my success. When I write something I feel passionate and excited about— even before anyone else has read it—there is my success. But as Henry David Thoreau writes, there are four elements that assist us in pursuing the lives we dream about. 1. Have a dream. To discover your dream, ask yourself these questions: What do I want to achieve? How do I want to feel? Where do I want to go? Who do I wish to meet? What is the legacy that I wish to leave the next generation? What do I wish to contribute? Where would I like to travel? How would I like to live? What don't I want in my life? When do I want these things, people, or events to come into my life's experience? How do I want to spend my days? Answer these questions and you will start to identify your dream. 2. Advance confidently in the direction of your dream. When you have a sense of purpose, your focus helps refresh your confidence. Now, your destination—the direction you're heading in—may change along the way. The important thing is that you keep going on your journey, and keep learning about yourself through the process. It is those who meander aimlessly through life with no plans, no focus, no goal, and no reason who lack confidence. When you know what you'd like to do, and actively choose to keep moving forward, you will feel strong and capable, even as the winds of change blow against your life. 3. Endeavour to live the life you have imagined. The use of the word "endeavor" implies that there will be times throughout the journey when you may not necessarily spend all your time in the frame that is defined by "the life you have imagined." I've chosen many of my "detours" because I needed to make a living, but good things often came from the choices I made out of necessity. Even on a detour—when we're in the "endeavoring" process—we can reap rewards that will not only benefit us, but also those who accompany us on this wonderful journey called life. This doesn't mean we stop endeavoring to create what we imagine. It just means we accept that things don't always go to plan, and stay committed to our dreams even as we're diverted from them. Bumps in the road shall be our teacher, and unexpected travels will be our tutors all the way to success. 4. Meet with success unexpected in common hours. We'll face a lot of common hours while striving for our dreams, so make them magnificent. In this way, you'll experience success at every point along the way—long before you achieve whatever it is you've dreamed about. When you do, because you've already celebrated successes in your everyday life, you've moved confidently throughout the years, and you've stayed committed to your purpose, you'll know this "arrival" is simply one of many personal successes. So what unexpected successes have you experienced lately.
- 16 Ages 21-29 Quora Merged The definition of success depends on an individual. How one perceives things and weighs them plays a significant factor in what success really mean to him/her. Some people find that helping people brings them the most joy, and therefore success looks like a joy of life given to others. Some realize that building a business or product brings them happiness. Some prefer isolation and others prefer constant activity. The simple yet profound truth is that what makes me happy doesn't make someone else happy, and vice versa. My vision of success probably looks nothing like yours, and that's how it should be. If we fail to define success for ourselves and try to pursue someone else's path, we'll end up frustrated, unhappy and ultimately feeling deeply unsuccessful. Bruce Lee said, "Always be yourself, express yourself, have faith in yourself; do not go out and look for a successful personality and duplicate it." The path to success begins by asking yourself, What makes me happy? Success is both a goal and a journey. When we reach certain milestones, that is an element of success. But we don't stop there. We push higher and harder, striving for more and to bet better. To me success resides in a famous quote: "Success is helping others to reach their success instead of worrying about my own."
- 17 Male Quora Merged An old man was lying on his bed, he was about to take his last breath of his life. "He lived a legendary life. Yes, he is going to die but he made sure his presence to be felt through his actions when he lived. I won't cry for him, as he will stay in our heart forever" says a random guy at the street. I believe that is the success in my life. I know a man who was successful in my view. DR.A.P.J ABDUL KALAM He is the only most successful person I have ever known. Thank you :)

- 18 Ages 18-20 Male Quora Merged How can we define success? Definition of success may be different for different person. For example, a bigger dream to have shelter while a common man dream to have a palace. So, according to that example, success can be defined as- Anyone who achieved, what dreamed, is success. Then, tell me, have our desire ever get satisfied? No. If that bigger got a shelter then he will dream of palace. Would he never call himself a successful person? And, what if he did not get a shelter. despite of all hard work, all tackled problem. Would he never call him successful person? Think about that father who left his dream and get a 9-6 job for their children. Is he not successful? Let me ask you a question, have you ever seen Classmate advertisement? Be better than yourself. The advertisement shows a story between daughter and mother, where daughter was sorry to her her mother in a letter because she did not scored better then others in maths test. She promised to her mother that next time she will surely score better then others and lift her trophy(cake made by her mom). Her mother noticed in her test copy, that she consistently improved her marks. So, her mother made cake for her. After watching the cake Girl : But I did not scored better then them. Mom : This is for scoring better then yourself. So, what do you think, the girl succeed or not? For me, yes! she succeed. Success is not in comfort and luxury, degree and reputation one have but is in being better then our last version. Don't tie success to a destination, enjoy journey,keep improving, now or later you will succeed. Success=betterment. Thanks.

- 19 Quora Merged Successful is one whose context of life has enhanced, not necessarily the content. Success is a mental state and it's independent of the amount of material you possess. Success is a daily affair. Many confuses success with achievement. Achievement of certain positions in the job or in the society. Or achievement of lots of money, property and materials. Most people have gulped wrong definition and perception of success and are in the unending direction of achieving it. Let's understand this with an example: Say a person becomes a doctor, becoming a doctor is an achievement but attending patients with peace, consciousness and dedication is his success. If a doctor is angry and misbehaves with patients or assistants then he's in misery and that's not called success. The same applies to all sections and positions in the society. Wherever, in whatever position one works, that doesn't matter, what matters is with what degree of responsibility and consciousness one does the job. Anybody who displays reactions in workplace or anywhere is not successful. Education is and should be a man making process along with skill development. Anybody who has developed skill and not functional human values are embraced with laziness, anger, sadness, frustration, stress etc. These are just different ranks of misery and signs of uneducated. For anybody to be eligible to serve the society, there are two requirements: Possession of functional human values which is the fundamental requirement to be called a human being. Possession of functional skill which will make contributions for progress in diverse areas. Possession of both is very necessary for success. Accumulation of functional human values leads to accumulation of skill and the converse is not necessarily true. There are people in the society who are very skillful but not sensible human beings. They can be a threat to the society. Their life isn't success inspite of having all professional, monetary and material achievement. Money is good to remain in your pocket but it's life taking when it enters your head. If the primary focus is on money and material then success, satisfaction will be a future thing. If the focus is on quality, efficient service then money, prosperity will happen as a byproduct. The performer will be taken care of. A performer is always an asset to the society, country or the entire world. Job is never secured, quality work is. Campus placements, job guarantees, inherited wealth and businesses are not sustainable if one does not have human values and skill. The entanglement and mechanism of life and the universe is in such a manner that right effort with a happy mind attracts success.

Success depends on how one defines their life. When a person reaches a high in a particular field but lacks in other areas, he may be successful in one field but not as a person. A person who understands all his responsibilities, makes reasonable efforts to fulfill them, is satisfied with what he achieves after reasonable efforts and who realises that this birth is a unique opportunity to improve his character and is constantly working towards it even while fulfilling his wordly responsibilities is actually performing his role ideally. 25	Ages 21-29 Male Quora Merged Success is different for everyone but true success, atleast for me, is when you succeed at something coming out of your lesser self. Now, how do you define lesser self? Lesser self is mostly thought of as being self centred. Actually, lesser self means you, your parents, your family, your neighbours and your friends and all the people whom you interact with directly. So when you start doing something keeping in mind the happiness and security of people with whom you dont directly interact, that is when you break out of your lesser self and enter the larger self zone. So find yourself an incentive for succeeding at something for your larger self and win and you'll be successful not only in your eyes but in the eyes of millions of people by touching their lives. All the best! Cheers! :)	1/12/2017
26	Ages 60 or older Male Quora Merged To me, one is a success when one achieves one's purpose in life. First, one must find/define a purpose for oneself. One's purpose could be to become the next Winston Churchill, or the next Steve Jobs, or this century's Mozart. For me, I have described my purpose in Steve Alexander's answer to What is life about? Another's purpose might be to conceive and raise a family of children to the point where they are able to stand on their own and be happy. It might be to find another and make his/her life easier and blessed with love, even though that means effort and sacrifice on one's own part. It might be to bring literacy to as many of the illiterate as possible in one working lifetime. Whatever the purpose in life one finds for one's self, achieving it is success. So, find a purpose for your life and set about achieving it. Actually, I think I'll revise my answer and say that having worked as diligently and conscientiously as one can in one's pursuit of one's purpose is having succeeded, irrespective of achievement.	7/24/2017

Perhaps "Success is spending the majority of my time focused on work or tasks that are fulfilling, leveraging my Zone of Genius, maximizing my potential and helping other people in a meaningful way while providing the freedom, lifestyle and experiences that I desire" We spend a lot of time observing the success of others, seeking inspiration into how we can achieve our own. Someone has a successful startup, so perhaps we should start our own. Another person is living the life by making a lot of money, so maybe if we earn more, we can do it too. A co-worker is racing through promotions, so we should push ourselves harder than is sustainable to get promoted as soon as possible. It's a never-ending race, and one that won't get us anywhere if we are blindly competing without purpose. The grass is always greener on the other side, and when we fall into this pattern, we risk believing that we will find fulfillment walking someone else's path. Other people's success should not be a measurement of our own. What makes someone successful or happy is not necessarily aligned with what we do best. We have to live up to our own individual potential, and to do that, we need to properly define what that means for us. secret to success is: define it. If we set our own standards for success, and follow them, then we are successful. It's that plain and simple.

Ages 21-29 Male Quora Merged 1 Success is giving it everything you have and doing your best, and having satisfaction at the end of the day that you have done that. How you respond to failure is also a measure of success. Being willing to take a risk, learn from the result, and being wise enough to correct your path shows character. As to how I measure up to that, I face each day with a positive attitude and I do my best to do it better today than I did it yesterday. Continual learning and improvement are daily objectives 2 "I define success as having a job that you enjoy and enables you financially, a spouse and family that loves and cares for you, children that make you proud by who they are and what they do, having the freedom to worship a loving God, and being able to contribute to the betterment of your fellow man. I am so blessed 3 Success: Success (the opposite of failure) is the status of having achieved and accomplished an aim or objective. Being successful means the achievement of desired visions and planned goals. Furthermore, success can be a certain social status that describes a prosperous person that could also have gained fame for its favorable outcome. The dictionary describes success as the following: "attaining wealth, prosperity and/or fame".How to define success in life?The only person that can answer the question above is you. I am neither able nor willing to prescribe the ultimate definition of success, as this is not possible. Every person is thinking differently about being prosperous in life and is defining success in another way, so there can't exist a definition that is suitable for all. It is very important that you know exactly how to define success in life! Make yourself aware what accomplishment, success, and prosperity in general means to you in your life. Some might define success as having luxurious cars and a huge mansion, whereas others consider a life full of joy and happiness with their family as the true meaning of success. Once you have figured out what is important for you personally you are able to focus on your visions and goals. The meaning of successOne of the most important key steps to achieving success in life is to know the meaning of success for your personal life. The true meaning of success goes far beyond the common definitions of success, such as having a lot of money, being wealthy, having a lot of tangibles and earned degrees. Quite the opposite: true success in life cannot be measured with the above-named factors, but instead with the amount of people that are able to live a better and more advanced life because of what you created. This is the meaning of success. Not the trophies people are collecting in their lives. Media and society let us often conclude that living a successful life means to be extraordinarily wealthy and have a lot of tangibles. But the meaning of success is to live a happy life and to make this world a better place for <http://everyone>.Is a fancy sports car really the definition of success? Definition of failureThe opposite of success is failure as it means to fail while trying to achieve aims or objectives. Besides this regular definition of failure, it also can be said that even wealthy and successful persons fail in their lives. Just think about the rich and famous and all their scandals, addictions and suicides. All of them were extraordinary persons but a lot of them were also extremely unhappy with their lives and were not able to see the meaning of success. Wealth cannot be defined with money, but instead with values in your life that make you a happy person, such as friendship, relationships, and your family .The difference between accomplishment and success: Accomplishment is often associated with success, but it is not the same. Accomplishment refers to the results we desire when we attempt to reach specific goals. Basically it is the results that we plan or expect to occur. Success is the positive consequence or outcome of an achieved accomplishment. The definition of accomplishment Accomplishment can be seen as the process to become successful and with every accomplished goal you take a step towards prosperity and a life full of success. How to achieve success in life?The process of becoming successful starts with elaborated goal settingDefine a strategy and a plan how you intend to reach your goals, aims, and visionsKeep in mind that success is the consequence of having earned a series of accomplishments, so make sure to divide your goals into easier to reach subgoals Success quotes:In the following, I have found some very inspiring and motivating quotes that shall accompany you on your journey to achieve happiness. Action is the foundational key to all success. ~ Pablo Picasso Always bear in mind that your own resolution to succeed is more important than any other. ~ Abraham Lincoln Defeat is not the worst of failures. Not to have tried is the true failure. ~ George Edward WoodberryDiscipline is the bridge between goals and accomplishment. ~ Jim Rohn Keep in mind the meaning of success and always try to remember how to define success in life, so that you will be able to live a life full of happiness and joy.

Ages 50-59 Male Quora Merged My response to the thrust of your question, drawing on intellectual cues from entrepreneur Paul J Meyer, and also founder of the Success Motivation Institute, Waco, Texas, USA, whose work has had influenced me substantially since the 70's: "Being successful" is best described as the aftermath of one's progressive realization of pre-planned, personal and worthwhile goals, covering all the major life dimensions, including: academic pursuits; career aspirations; mental development; physical health; financial wealth; family relationships; social networking; recreational ventures; spiritual development; entrepreneurial side-gigs, if any; Therefore, "success" is essentially a journey, and not a destination, because life is always a work-in-progress as one traverses the Highway of Life!

30	Quora Merged Success: How does one move ahead in life? Refer the graphs. The steeper the slope of responsibilities, wealth and learnings, the higher the success. Note that the graph considers only the individual's responsibilities, wealth and learnings. It does not compare these parameters with somebody else's. Success is defined as how much one has moved forward in his life, and the rate at which he moved ahead in life. The higher the rate, the bigger the success.	9/8/2016
31	Male Quora Merged When people talk about success, they always relate it to work and profession. So if not that, you'd ask what's success? I work in a distribution firm called KRYFS Power Components. There was this fabulous personality, Mr. Sanjiv Chhabria. Mr. Sanjiv was called Einstein of our organization. He left the organization to work with an NGO working for animals called 'WORLD FOR ALL'. World for All has saved more than 18k dogs and cats. The awareness video made by 'WORLD FOR ALL' Mr. Sanjiv left his job, as a KEY PERSON of our organization and started working for the lives of Dogs and Cats cause humans can discuss their problems; But, a mute animal can't. For me he has earned it already and that's what I'd call success. The 'few' animals out of the 'many' rescued animals. Mr. Sanjiv is not only successful, he is a role model. :)	12/18/2016
32	Ages 40-49 Male Quora Merged The definition of success is plain and simple. Success means the accomplishment of an aim or purpose. However, most people don't want to have a simple definition of anything. They won't be satisfied if you provide them simple solutions of life. They are trained to think that life is complicated and you can't understand it. They are trained to think that life is difficult and you have to struggle with it. They are trained to think that success is so difficult that it is achievable. They are trained to think that you can't be successful unless you meet the aim set by other people. Success is in your creation and you are the master of your aim and purpose. If you keep your aim and purpose of life reasonable, you shall always succeed in life.	5/5/2017
33	Male Quora Merged Different people have different definitions of success. For me, Success is "Constant Self Improvement" with respect to your professional, personal, social and spiritual journey called Life. Success is not the final product, it is the Process, the Practice, the hardwork, the struggle, the lessons you learned, the it's far better and satisfying than just reaching a goal and staying there forever. Your struggle determines your future. So focus on the Process not the outcome. Anyone who has will, and willing to work hard; his hard times will eventually evaporates leaving behind crystallized lessons of success which be with him till the End.	1/12/2017
34	Male Quora Merged Success is not a straight mind , its crooked and valued. People consider Hard work = Success but from my point of view the actual success or we can say ultimate happiness is Hard work + Smart work = Miracles . This is the actual definition of success. Moreover Selection is directly proportional to success. Its the truth said by Nicola Tesla " The more you become smarter the more you become selective " . Select proper friends, proper activity, proper habits and proper management. This is how the Definition of success is derived thank you :)	1/10/2017
35	Ages 21-29 Male Quora Merged Success varies from person to person. Everyone defines success in their own way. Success to me means setting a goal and a actually achieving it. It can be any goal. If you want to be fit, you change your diet, hit the gym and starting changing. So that can make you successful in fitness. Money? Work hard, work smart, improve your mindset, earn a lot of money. Your success can be raising your children correctly and showing them the right path. But one does not need to be successful, most people aren't. But then again, who are we to judge that person? He is choosing his own goals. Who do we owe success to anyway? Hope this clears things up.	1/12/2017

What I think is if you are crying because of sadness then you have failed at that point of time. Success is happiness. Seeing your business bloom from a cart to a store. Your child growing up to be successful Helping people in need Educating yourself and the people around you. It can be absolutely anything but at the end of the day, you should have smile on your face saying "today was good day".	1/12/2017

41	Ages 21-29 Male Quora Merged I believe in two conditions for the success in life. There should be a fixed starting line There should be a fixed ending line. From my view, both are lies. The truth is Life is a kind of race where everyone is not standing at the same starting line. i.e., Starting is different for everyone. Finishing line is also different for everyone. Then, What is Success? Basically our success is defined by the distance covered from our starting point. If at any moment we would like to know how successful we are, do this: Turn around and see how far we have come. But, many of us make the mistake of assuming that life is a single event. No, it is not. Life is made up of unlimited number of events. The first being our birth and the last being our death. In between, there lies many events. Some of them go as expected and some of them not. Now, if we talk about success in career, it is also a part of the same theory. From the first day on your job to the day you retire, you face hundreds of events and thousands of opportunities. You can’t expect to succeed in all. However, if you manage to succeed in most of them, some people will start calling you a successful man. Thank You.	12/18/2016

It varies from person to person , it could be to stand on legs for a baby ...to... break the record of bolt for athlete, from learning 1-10 to some or completing Phd in maths to some. But the soul of every "success" irrespective of situation, is the sense of accomplishment , sense of proving yourself worth of the circumstances your life has put you in or the game you have chosen. 1)That feel is transcendental which creates a constant hunger in a person to have " it " at any cost. 2)It is the mother of various attributes in a person like commitment , dedication, sincerity towards procedure, detachment from bad indulgence, perseverance etc 3) It is the main route which results in greatness ,perfection and work of world class in the person who is intelligently obsessed with success.	12/19/2016

For some success is becoming millionaire, for some it's personal development, for some it's internal peace and the list goes on and on. For me being successful is increasing your life status on whole that is achieving those things which you wished for and being satisfied with what you have made out of your life so that when lie on your death bed you give a sigh and say that your living wasn't a waste.. :-)	7/9/2017
48	Female Quora Merged	SUCCESS? Well success is something which you put your boundaries till. If you think that you want to achieve 25/30 marks and you get that much then for you, you are successful! Success is different for different people. Success is achieving a thought or a goal. Success does nkt have to be big haha! If you think you want to hav3 pani puri or pakoda, and you have it? Yes my friend! You are successful! Always keep motivating yourself with same successes of your life because success is not a word it is a feeling! Feeling of satisfaction, happiness and positivity!	9/20/2016
49	Ages 21-29 Female Quora Merged	Simply,Success means ,that when you want to go for a trip and you have enough money then you are success in your life. Other point of you if you self satisfied with honesty in your work then you are successful person. I belive that success means not only to become celebrity or you should have more money or power. It dosen't matter whether you are celenrity or not. Success means, you should have enough money to full fill your dream. Here i am not talking about big success. I am just telling you for our general routine life.	4/20/2017
50	Male Quora Merged	It relies on how you define success yourself. If your definition is materialistic I would assume it would be based roughly on how much wealth you accumulate. If it is not then I would then assume it would rely on the accumulation of valuable relationships and overall human experience (love in some sense). These seem to be the two extremes on the spectrum so my answer would be a fair median between the two. Enough wealth to live comfortably, yet enough valuable life experience and love to remain content in life. Somewhere roughly along those lines would be my definition of success in a broad statement.	5/2/2018
51	Quora Merged	Ahaan success. For me success is- Being happy in your own skin. No regrets of your decisions. Being able to inspire someone. Making your parents proud. Having a loving family. Simply accepting your every flaw. Making your dream, a reality. A job you love. Trying your heart out. Being me.	12/27/2016

54	Ages 40-49 Male Quora Merged	First you have to have a goal. Without a goal, there is no success. If your goal is to get your kid to soccer practice on time, and you are able to accomplish that task, you have achieved success, at least in that area. If being successful is having a wonderful close family, make that a goal. If making a ten million dollars will make you feel successful, make that a goal. You have to define what will bring you true happiness and make that your priority, set the goal and start working towards that success.	7/24/2017
55	Female Quora Merged	"Always be yourself, express yourself, have faith in yourself, do not go out and look for a successful personality and duplicate it" -Bruce Lee. The meaning of success varies from person to person. Each of us have different thoughts and goals in life, so there is no exact definition of success that suits all. It is very important that you know exactly how to define success in life! Make yourself aware of what accomplishment, success, and prosperity means to you in your life. For some passing an exam is success, for others it may be buying a car with the money they have been saving for years, for some success maybe getting a degree and for a few success may be just being happy! One of the most important key steps to achieving success in life is to know the meaning of success for your personal life. Always bear in mind that your own resolution to succeed is more important than any other. ~ Abraham Lincoln	9/19/2016

58	Ages 21-29 Male Quora Merged	Success is defined differently for different people as their view towards success differs from person to person. For me it goes this way.. U can say that ur successful, when u achieve the following 1) when ur friends, relatives, wellwishers come to ur parents n say PROUDLY that " wat a great son\daughter u have" (HINDI -kya kamaal ka beta/beti paida kiya hai aapne) (TELUGU - em goppa paapa/babu Ni kannaru miru) 2) when ur school/college that u have studied calls u as a chief guest to their school/college events 3) when to come to a stage where people ask u for autographs and selfies instead of u asking them (HINDI- jab tum autograph lene ke stage se autograph dene vale stage tak pahunchoge) (TELUGU- nvu autograph tiskune rojula nunchi autograph iche roju Ki ochinapudu) Then u can proudly say that YES u really are successful..!! Note: The reason for using other languages apart from English is, Jo mazaa desi language(since I know nly Hindi and Telugu hence used them nly) mein aata hai voh mazaa English Mein nahi aayega hamesha.	5/6/2017

The achievement of being able to finish any project is a success. Success is measured by own personal goals and wants, depending on how far one would like to achieve the kind of satisfaction to be had. Success really is individualistic. What can make you feel succeeded in one way or the other, is called success. You have it in you, the feeling of success. 62	Ages 40-49 Male Quora Merged	As strange as it might seem, success, one of the most popular concepts in our modern world, is the most difficult thing to understand for many people. Maybe that would be the main reason for not getting it at all? Maybe because the core definition of success is so foggy we have a hard time identifying a successful outcome? What is success to you? What is the final touch that defines a successful lifestyle? If you started to wonder even for a split of a second about the answer to that question, I bet you have difficulties in enjoying your life. I know I did. I struggled for years with the socially generated concepts of success and tried a lot of paths in order to achieve those – sometimes even opposed – states of success. It literally took me years to understand the core meaning of success. It's difficult to understand that because most of the definitions are socially generated and every one of them implies some artificial link between you and the others. In order to be successful you have to be acknowledged by somebody else. You need proof and most of the times you need somebody else to tell you that you are a successful human being. That's strange. That's the wrong way, you know, to be told you are successful, to need external validation processes. Being successful should be something that comes the other way around: from within. The modern society put such a tremendous pressure on being popular. Success is often defined by the number of people that have heard about you. Being known is enough of a success for many people, even if this popularity has no generated value associated with it.	7/9/2016
63	Male Quora Merged	Success is defined through the eyes of the people around you...(i.e. your society) Satisfaction is defined through your eyes. Happy people strive for satisfaction, not success. Chase wisely my friend	12/18/2016
64	Male Quora Merged	Success to each human being is different for each and there may vary for various criteria. For me Success comes in 8 differing factors, namely Career, Education, Finance, Spiritual, Personal Relationships, Family & Love ♥, Egoistic Ideals, and finally Political Achievements. One has to ask, from the time you started school, where are you now? Have you progressed from an Intern, going through being supervisor, Assistant Manager, Department Manager, General Manager, Vice President or Chief Executive Officer? Here we are referring to the Career Path. Then we must ensure, that from day one in Primary Education, have we progress forward, going through Secondary education, Polytechnic or Junior College, University, BA or B.Sc. Degree, Masters or even a Doctorate in Philosophy - Ph.D.? Or Professional qualifications like Chartered Accountant or Engineer? Other Medical Qualifications? Progress in Educational Achievements. With progress in Career and Educational achievements, the amount of salary will also gradually increase as you advance in your advancements in your executive status. The amount you earn increases from a few thousands to higher levels of monetary rewards, to a few tens of thousands or even to a few hundreds of thousands or millions. That will account for your Financial achievements. So with so much Successful progress in your Career, if you have found suitable Partner, you can get married and start a family. This is your Love and Family building, which is another achievement. As your Family grows, and now at higher levels of management, you have more time available to attend to the Spiritual and Religious part of your life. You can join a congregation, bring your wife and children to learn and contribute to the religious organizations with finance or your available free time for Charitable activities. So you have progressed from a young man or woman and becoming a more mature human being. Now having achieved so many successes', and have so much more Free time in the evenings and on weekends too, you can now catch up with your ex-school mates, friends and neighbors to develop you Personal Relationships which were some what neglected when you were younger. So have more frequent meetings, fishing trips, play Golf or engage in other wholesome activities. Also now with so much wealth, status and a great Network of individuals, you can start to work on your Personal egoistic desires. You may even consider going into Politics to Champion some causes or if you aspire to be a office bearers in Town Councils, Districts, states or even be in the central government officials. If you can get this far, means that you have been very successful in your Career and your Life's journey. All these being said, if your idea about Success is different from this, then you just follow your set Goals, Desires, Aspirations and get on with your Progress through your Strategic Plans, and Decisive Actions through great Inspirations and own self driven Motivation. I hope that you can see the advantages of this concept and strategy.	12/18/2016

Success is when the expectation ends. The lust comes in different forms, sometimes to impress others and sometimes to make our enemy jealous. Both are wrong. True success is when you are fulfilled, you are complacent about your own choice. Whether you earn $100000 a month or whether you earn $0, you should feel okay, like stoic Diogenes once told to Alexander when asked about what he want, he replied, "you are blocking my sun, get away from the path." That's true success.	1/25/2018

93	Ages 21-29 Female Quora Single	Personally, Success for me, would be any point in life from which when you look back, and see reasons. Pieces falling in their places. All things in the past somehow making sense. There will be regrets as well as triumphs. But realizing the sum of all those moments, dark or bright, made you the person you are that day. You do have regrets. But you would still choose not to have anything changed from the past. As a 19 year old, I'm driven to think this way considering career, life etc. For someone older, my definitions may seem too pretentious or too ideal. perhaps it is too ideal. Let's see.	1/19/2018
94	Ages 21-29 Male Quora Single	This is what I think success is: Making money off something you would do for free. For me, it started out as the generic thinking of success - to have a lot of money and be able to do whatever you want. But as time went on I started to realise that purely chasing money means you'll generally end up doing something that makes you unhappy. That might be a job, long hours, no time off, whatever it may be, if you're only chasing the money, you're probably hating the process. Success needs depth. You need to want to do what you're doing in order to get it. Which is why I've found out that you need to chase your passion. Something that you love. And you need to be willing to do it for free for a while. Eventually the money will come. Focus on the process, not the end goal. Hope this helps!	1/19/2018

99	Male Quora Merged	You cannot define success no one can. Why? Because success is not absolute it's relative. It varies from person to person. The question is what success means to you!? For most of the people success means to find peace. That peace can be found by helping others, looking at smiling faces of your family and knowing that you are the reason behind it or even saving a small creature from its death is success. Success is directly related to happiness. If doing something gives you happiness then you have succeeded. It's that simple. A farmer happy about looking at the smiling faces of his family is far more successful than a rich businessman whose daughter ran away from home and chose to marry someone outside their caste because he wouldn't allow it. Because the farmer is happy and the businessman is not.	6/11/2018

103	Male Quora Merged	Success is propagating forward your genetic code while in parallel living in accordance with your nature. Any deviation towards artificial (office work, processed food, lack of activity, sun, sky, fresh air; compulsive acquisition of goods) creates issues (sickness, degradation, frustration and depression). Our nature is social in essence and integrated with our environment. Unfortunately lately we see it most commonly at the museum. Our social interactions are virtual and/or shallow while our lives go on inside the concrete and glass cages. Success, in my view, is an environmentally friendly carpe diem.	12/18/2016

118	Male Quora Merged	For me success is defined as the fulfillment of concrete, definable goals. If I am writing a book success may be holding a finished copy in my hands, sharing it with family members, or perhaps self-publishing. If I am at a company success may be a promotion or completing a particularly difficult project. I find more peace of mind focusing on these smaller definitions of success in the varying components of my life. It is difficult to define what success looks like over a lifetime and even then what happens when I change my mind?	9/13/2017

144	Ages 17 or younger Female Interview	It means when you reach a goal that you put down. So if you, as an example, it's like you wanted to get a A in your semester or whatever and then you did it, you were successful.	1/3/2018 2:59 PM
145	Ages 40-49 Female Interview	Success... I believe so success is for some person very smart and know what they doing. You have to know what you, what exactly you are doing. That is the most important thing. And then, learning too. From other people, too. And you can become successful.	1/6/2018 7:35 PM
146	Ages 21-29 Female Interview	I guess you could use the word achieving something that you put as a goal. So, success could be anything, I would think, from a range of something you put your mind to. Something to kind of... like a passing grade. And you put that and apply to all type places of life. I would think. You know everyone has their own battles and they fight them how they can, but the true success would be to when you fall, you don't quit. You don't give up. You just get back up and you keep going. And that of in itself I think is successful. Anything you put your mind to, I think, as long as you're just still moving. You're still going forward.	1/16/2018 7:58 PM
147	Ages 30-39 Interview Male	Um... I guess multiple ways. Eventually, I mean when you're an entrepreneur, there's always like some kind of set goal. And the set goal for myself is, you know, in the future, work less and have more income, basically. So you do all the work up front. And so, for me, success would be have more time in the future, have more passive income in the future. And that way, you can focus on other areas of your life like relationships, with family, and that kind of stuff, traveling. So, as an entrepreneur, for me, that would be defining happy. I mean I'm happy just now to not have to drive anywhere in the morning.	1/15/2018 6:47 AM
148	Ages 50-59 Interview Male	Hm. Well, I don't think that there's any one thing that success can be labeled as. There's a cliché that says that success is a journey. So I would say that just like happiness, success is a state of mind. So at any particular time, you can feel like you're enjoying success or on your way to success or left success behind. Just like happiness, you can feel happy today. You might not be happy tomorrow. You're going to be happy tomorrow. You were happy yesterday. So for me, success is subjective. It really is sort of the perception of the individual. You can decide that you're successful. Or you can decide that you're not successful. For me, I think it's really not something that can be defined by others around you. You have to decide what the definition of success is.	2/9/2018 11:24 AM
149	Ages 30-39 Interview Male	I would define success as... You know there's different ways you can answer that. But, you know, success I guess for every individual would be, you know, what makes you happy. If you're happy in life, then you're successful. Whatever things you do in your life, they're going to take you in different directions based on your choices. And if you make good choices and end up happy in life, that's success. Happiness is what, you know, life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That's what our constitution's all about. I believe in that. So, I would say success is about being happy. For some people, it might be how much money you've made or how many things you've gained along the way, accomplishments. You know, all those things fall into, are factors into your personal happiness cuz if somebody says I need this to be happy, then maybe they need to achieve this promotion at work or maybe they need to achieve this level of income to be happy. But for me, happiness. Success is all about how happy you are. Being happy.	1/18/2018 4:49 PM
150	Ages 21-29 Interview Male	Can't be successful if like.. I put it like this, like as bad as you need air to breathe, like you gotta like... You just gotta be successful. Like, I don't know how to explain it. But like if I was to explain it like... You gotta want it. You just gotta want it. You gotta be hungry for it. Like if you not hungry for it, or you don't go after it, you just not going to get it. But you don't want to get it too much cuz if you get it too much, you not gonna want it. Like if you get too much of something, you not going to want it. So make it limited. Get what you want, but make it limited. So you can actually make it last forever. Like, alright, there's a quote from this artist. His name is XXXTentacion. He's like, he says, like, "If you have too much ice cream, you're not going to want ice cream. But if you have it, and like it's limited like you have ice cream one day. You don't have it for two weeks. And then you have it again. And you don't have it for two weeks. And then you have it again. You're going to keep wanting it. But if you have it everyday, you're going to get sick and tired of it and you're not going to want it." So basically, what that means is like make sure you get it, but make sure it's limited so you can make it last forever.	1/5/2018 2:24 PM

151	Ages 18-20 Female Interview	Living a successful life. For me, personally, I see it in relationships in my life. I want to... It's like almost like a dream of mine. To live a fulfilling life, with people who deeply care about you and you care about them and you love them and they are there for you and it's just like you're both pursuing something great. Sister, Mom, Dad, friendships, mentorships, relationships, like a spouse or significant other. Any contact with human beings like you just want to be the best. That's a part of a successful life, to me, like having great relationships, in every aspect of life. If you have a great marriage, but your relationships with your friends are nonexistent or terrible or bland, there's an imbalance there. It's not right. So, apart from relationships, living a successful life, I believe, like kind of tie into what my shirt means. Is living a lifestyle where you're not controlled by like menial things like money or time, you know, or a boss. Living a successful life means that you, as a good person, you are doing something great with your time. Whatever you want. Living in abundance and impacting people and sharing your story and changing lives. Like that would be just... I would feel so successful. Obviously, that comes with wealth and making money. Like, that's just a part of it. There's no number value on what successful means. You know what I mean? It's like that those aspects will come and then the money just like follows, however much, whatever vehicle you use or industry you're in. Jobs are optional. ;)	1/5/2018 2:07 PM
152	Ages 30-39 Interview Male	Success means happiness to me. Happiness with myself and my life, my family. Not necessarily monetary thing. That's not success, to me. That's an added bonus. But the happiness of my own life and my friends and family around me. Just being happy.	1/6/2018 5:42 PM
153	Ages 50-59 Interview Male	Success means to me a balance of your own personal being. Your close relationships with the people that, you know, your family, your immediate friends. The contributions that you make to the groups that you're sociated with, be it with work, religious groups, any kind of different groups that you have. Your overall contribution that you have to mankind, as a steward and pilot.	1/5/2018 11:40 AM
154	Ages 21-29 Interview Male	I would define success as reaching a goal that makes you happy in life. No other if it's small or big as long as you reach a goal. I think success can be in big or little form. Depends on how you look at it.	1/19/2018 10:34 AM
155	Ages 21-29 Female Interview	I feel like success is the.. it's the progressive realization of a worthwhile dream or goal and I mean that as in like you continuously find out what success really is the more you pursue what you're going after like that is success is like being in the pursuit of something.	1/23/2018 3:24 PM
156	Ages 21-29 Female Interview	I would say, in my own opinion, success would be fulfilling my life goals and getting to where I want to be. Getting where you want to be in life.	1/24/2018 1:00 PM
157	Ages 21-29 Interview Male	I would define success by how happy you are. By happiness. Overall day to day, waking up happy, going to sleep happy. Going throughout your day happy.	1/13/2018 8:52 PM

158	Ages 21-29 Interview Male	That seems to always change for me. So, when I was younger, like in college, whatnot, I always wanted to be this like hedge fund manager. Like I wanted to manage like billions and I wanted to go to New York and like make a name for myself and I wanted to like I don't know you know be interviewed by Bloomberg. I wanted to be interviewed by CNBC. I wanted to be on there and be a talking head. And I wanted to just work on those, you know, amazing high-rises looking over Central Park and... I mean that's what I envisioned. To me, that's what success was, like, you know. To me, like to put a dent on the universe, so they say. It's to me that's what it meant. And, that's what I pursued for like a long time and I got pretty far. Got pretty far. I did end up in those buildings. I ended up managing hundred of millions of dollars. I did end up being interviewed. I ended up you know like yeah a lot of stars did lineup and amazing things did happen in pursuit of that but, I also lost so much in pursuit of that. Right? I mean if someone asked me, I mean, do you want me to be super honest with these things like questions I mean why not? When I say like I lost so much as a result is because I neglected so many things. Like there's always... Nothing's ever like perfect or rosie right? As much as I wanted these things, it comes at a cost right? I was kind of slave to it. It's all I consumed and it's all I ever pursued and wanted and... There's a funny picture I mean meme that I saw the other day. It was a couple lying side-by-side and their backs were turned. Their backs were turned so they were both facing the outside. And the woman was saying to herself, "oh my God he's thinking about other women." And then this guy was not thinking about other women. But there was you know those thought bubbles? Yeah it was him thinking about bitcoin, cryptocurrencies, and stocks. You get what I'm saying? I think that was my life for a very long time. Like even in relationships, even in whatnot it was always, "Yeah, like I'm living with you. I tell you I love you. I tell you I'm in this. I'm in it for the long haul." But my mind was always gravitated towards those things that are always changing and fast moving. And that was me. That was exactly me. I actually saw that like two days ago and I had to really stop and I was like man I can so relate to this but yeah so that was me. Because to me success, I thought that was the price you pay. And I thought that was required of me. That exact thing. That exactly was required of me. But now I realize, now that I've attained it and had it and pursued what and actually do the things that I've always dreamed of when I was in high school or college. I realized that a lot of that is kind of trivial. I know it's so cliché but it is so trivial. And I'm just fortunate that, I'm thankful that people that I realize that early. I mean 29 is not grossly young but still young enough. And so, now the definition of success is, again it seems so cliché, but I guess it is true. I want to build... I want to have more anchors in my life. And that anchor being for so many years I guess I kind of moved around a lot, in pursuit of those dreams and passion. But now, I want to settle down to a place where I want to stay for a long time. And that would mean anchors that would stick, keep me there. And that would mean, I don't know just I guess getting married, whatnot or having, finding somebody, having kids. You know. I wanna have three kids, I guess. Now, to me, those are the definitions of success now. That's what I'm trying to get at, yeah. So, it has changed a lot. Yeah, that's what I want to pursue next. Yeah, in life, yeah. Now that I have the other thing, that would be success. Ok, so if you asked, three years from now. The definition of success three years from now, knowing where I'm going to stay for the next ten years. But with that said, having someone in my life and expecting a kid. That would be a success, yeah. I'll be 32. Yeah, oops. Yeah, hah.	1/7/2018 12:47 PM

284	Ages 30-39	Benchmark	Female	Figuring out what you always wanted to do and being able to find it, before it's too late. This understanding comes from growing yourself, knowing who you are and the confidence to tell others what you really want out of this short life and not be afraid of what people think because you are now more courageous than ever. You survived a lot of obstacles throughout your childhood, striving to have a good well rounded education, getting a climb the corporate ladder for 15 years, get fired, become more humble and grateful for everything. Smile when you want to cry and maintain a positive rather than negative outlook. Once you can do that whole-heartedly meet your education, career, goals and realize you have too much stuff and move to the virgin islands before getting some of taken	2/8/2018 10:47 PM

467	Ages 21-29	Female	Social	To me, success is a state to reach and mantain, in which you realize what happiness looks to you (leaving aside what society says it should look like), and you come to a peaceful feeling in which you embrace the place you are at the moment, understanding your pas as a path towards this moment, and the future as something you are going to build with all that you have learned and discovered until now. It is a state in which you know which are your goals, which goals have you acomplished now, and you get a positive mindset that allows you to enjoy the journey. To me, it is not a destiantion, like, "once I am rich, I have succeded in life".	1/24/2018 11:26 AM
